Numb. 207.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From Thurſday, JANUARY 5, to Thurſday, JANUARY 12, 1738.

On Tueſday laſt arrived here Capt Ayres in Six Weeks from England, by whom we have the following freſh Advices.

From the London Magazine for October.

FROM the Imperial Armies in Hungary, we have the following Accounts: That about the Beginning of September laſt, the Turks having aſſembled a conſiderable Army in Moldavia and Wallachia, General Ghilani, chief Commander of the Imperial Troops in thoſe Provinces, found himſelf under a Neceſſity of abandoning the Poſts he had poſſeſſed in them, and retiring towards Tranſilvania. In his Retreat, the Turks came up with his rear Guard and attack'd it; but were ſo warmly receiv'd, that they were ſoon obliged to retire in Confuſion, leaving a great Number dead upon the Spot, and about 30 Priſoners.

On the other Hand, the German Army under Count Seckendorff having inveſted Uſitza on Sept. 21. carried on the Attack with ſuch Vigour, that the Garriſon were obliged to ſurrender on Oct. 2. having obtained the ſame Terms of Capitulation, that were granted to the Garriſon of Nizza.

But that Part of the German Army under the Command of Count Khevenhuller, which had been left to continue the Blockade of Widdin, being reduced to 5000 Men, by having ſent off ſeveral Detachments, the Turks were, by the Smallneſs of their Number, encouraged to attack them. Accordingly having gathered together a Body of about 15 or 16000 Men, moſtly conſiſting of their regular Troops lately arrived from Aſia, they came and encamped on Sept. 27. at Night, at the Mouth of the Timock, near the German Army; and next Day Count Khevenhuller having perceived they intended to march and attack him in his Camp, reſolved, notwithſtanding the Smallneſs of his Numbers, to march out and meet them. For this Purpoſe he drew up his Army in Order of Battle about 1000 Paces from his Camp, and in that Order marched towards the Enemy, till he came near to a large Foreſt, or open Country, which he ſaw it would be dangerous for him to enter, becauſe, the Turks being much more numerous, might there have had Room to have ſurrounded his little Army and ſo have attacked him on all Sides; therefore he made a Halt near the Foreſt, and took up his Ground ſo skillfully, that it was not in the Power of the Turks to ſurround him. Upon his Halting the Turks marched up to the Attack, in good Order, and with a ſlow Pace, contrary to their uſual Cuſtom. About 2 in the Afternoon they began the Attack in their uſual Manner with general and horrible Shrieks; but met with ſuch a ſmart Fire from the German Cavalry, Infantry, and Cannon, that they ſoon retreated in Confuſion. However they returned ſeveral Times to the Charge, ſo that the Battle laſted till Night; having ſo ſmall Number of Troops, he could not leave any proper Guard in his Camp, which, during the Engagement, was attacked by a Detachment of Turkiſh Horſe, who maſſacred moſt of the ſick Men they found in the Camp; but the Servants fled with all the Tents and Baggage to the Mountains, and the Turkiſh Detachment being attacked in their Turn, by a Detachment from the German Army under Lieutenant General Batheani, were entirely put to the Rout; ſo that they carried off no Booty. In this Action the Germans loſt but about 200 Men, beſides the Sick killed in the Camp, but the Turks 'tis ſaid, loſt above 1500. However as Count Khevenhuller ſaw it was impoſſible for him to defend himſelf againſt ſuch a ſuperior Body of the Enemy, and at the ſame Time to block up Widdin, he retired next Morning, and marched to Perſa Palanka, without having met with any conſiderable Loſs in his Retreat, tho' often attacked by the Turks.

The Operations of the Campaign between the Muſcovites and Turks being over, Count Munich, with the Body of the Army under his Command, retired towards the Ukraine, where they are to take up their Winter Quarters, and was expected to arrive at Perekowna, Oct. 1. laſt. And General Lacy, with the Army under his Command, having retired out of the Crim, as mentioned in our laſt, arrived Sept. 14 at Bachmuths; from whence it ſeems not very poſſible, there can be any Truth in the Story we had lately from France, of his having been defeated and taken Priſoner by the Turks.

The Muſcovites are making great Preparations for a vigorous and active Campaign next Summer; for which Purpoſe they have reſolved to raiſe 4,000 Men additional Troops which they propoſe to do by taking one out of every 125 Men fit for Service in that Empire; from whence we may compute, that, notwithſtanding the vaſt Extent of that Empire, almoſt equal to all the reſt of Europe, they reckon in it but 500,000 Men fit to bear Arms: But the moſt diverting Part of this Reſolution is, that even their Prieſts and Monks are not to be excepted; for out of every 125 Prieſts and Monks, one of them muſt take up the Weapons of the Fleſh, in order to fight againſt the Enemies of Chriſtianity; and 'tis probable they may do more Service in this Way againſt the Turks, than they ever did in their ſpiritual Warfare againſt the Devil. However, it muſt be granted, that is a dangerous Precedent for the Prieſts in all Countries; for as great Numbers of able bodied Recruits might be raiſed from among the Clergy of almoſt every Country, it is to be feared this Precedent may ſome Time or other be followed by other Nations.

Extract of Capt Hipper's Letter from Carthagena, Sept 27.

I loaded my Ship at Smyrna, for Algier, having my 3 Turkiſh Merchants on board, and 8 Turks Paſſengers. The 17th Inſtant I fell in with 2 Spaniſh Barks; I hoiſted my Engliſh Colours, and they Moriſh; they commanded me on board. I went with my Paſs, expecting they were Moors; they immediately took my Paſs from me, and ſaid it was a Sarah's, told me I was a Prize, directly put me and my People in a little Hole forward, and laid the Hatch over us; they then went on board with about 30 Hands, they fell to tearing my Ship to Bits, beating and abuſing my Merchants. They left ſeven Spaniards on Board to take care of the Ship, the 19th Inſtant the two Barks got into this Port; the 21ſt, the Spaniards that were left on board my Ship, brought my Veſſel into this Port, I ſail'd ask'd them what was become of my Ship? They told me they had left her ten Leagues from the Spanish Shore, and that two Algerines had chaled them. I am apt to believe they have murder'd my People and plunder'd my Ship, for we have never heard of her since My Cargo was very rich; my Merchants tell me it cost 79000 Dollars; and I had a very large Adventure on board, having as much Goods of my own as cost above 6000 Turkish Dollars. I have wrote to our Ambassador at Madrid, and to the Consul at Alicant, who promise to write to the Ambassador, and to the Court of Great Britain The House at Alicant, Merret, Hall, and Rowly, has given me Credit for 200 Dollars to cloath me and my Son. Capt. Hans hath given me an old Wig, and spared me a Shirt and Hat; as for Breeches and Shoes I have none. I have no Bed but the Deck, Bread and Water for my Food, and the Heavens my Covering. If this is not look'd into, our Trade in the Levant is lost.

LONDON, October 13.

The Spaniards, continuing to take and plunder our Ships in the West Indies, and having very lately taken the George of Bristol, with the Dispatch, and Royal Jane belonging to London, the latter of which was richly laden, and besides other valuable Commodities had near 200 Hogsheads of Sugar on board, our Merchants trading to America found themselves obliged to address his Majesty on that Account, humbly shewing

That the fair and lawful Trade of your Majesty's Subjects to the British Plantations in America, hath been greatly interrupted, for many Years past, not only by their Ships having been frequently stopped and searched, but also forcibly and arbitrarily seized on the High Seas, by Spanish Ships fitted out to Cruise under the plausible Pretence of Guarding their own Coasts; that the Commanders thereof, with their Crews, have been inhumanly treated, and their Ships carried into some of the Spanish Ports, and there condemned with their Cargoes, in manifest violation of the Treaties subsisting between the two Crowns

That notwithstanding the many Instances made by your Majesty's Ministers at the Court of Madrid, against this injurious Treatment, the late and repeated Insults of the Spaniards, upon the Persons and Properties of your Majesty's Subjects, lay your Petitioners under the Necessity of applying again to your Majesty for Relief

That by these violent and unjust Proceedings of the Spaniards, the Trade to your Majesty's Plantations in America, is rendered very Precarious; and if any Nation be suffered thus to insult the Persons of your Majesty's Subjects, and plunder them of their Property, your Petitioners apprehend it will be attended with such an Obstruction of that valuable Branch of Commerce, as will be very fatal to the Interest of Great Britain.

Your Petitioners therefore humbly pray, your Majesty will be graciously pleased to procure speedy and ample Satisfaction to your Subjects, for the Losses they have sustained, that no British Vessel be detained or searched on the High Seas by any Nation, under any Pretence whatsoever; and that the Trade to America may be rendered sure for the future, by such Means as your Majesty in your great Wisdom shall think fit.

His Majesty was pleased to receive this Petition with his own Hand in a very gracious Manner; and the Merchants were acquainted that it should be considered by a Committee of his Privy Council, and an Answer given them in a short time by his Secretary.

His Majesty has been pleased to appoint Philip Delegal, Senr. Philip Delegal Junr. and George Dunbarr, who have serv'd in Georgia, and Raymond Desmare, and George Morgan, Lieutenants; and James Mackay, William Tolson, William Horton, John Tenner, who also served in Georgia, and ——— Lemman and Sandford Mace, to be Ensigns in General Oglethorpe's Regiment of Foot

The Dutch having taken some Spanish Vessels in the West Indies by way of Reprisal, and in them some Persons of Distinction, the Spaniards desired to be releas'd; to which the Dutchmen reply'd, Restore to us what you have taken from us, and we will comply with your Demand.

The French have received an honourable Satisfaction of the Inhabitants of Mocha in Arabia, for raising their Duties, and insulting the Company's Factors. They did not obtain it by complaining of the wrong, but they sent 4 large Vessels to bombard the City, and gave it only an Hour's time to comply with their Demands of doing them Justice.
